4. (1:01:30 TS) Public Health Nurse – update
There have been a lot calls (and emails) about EEE, Douglas is at a critical level. There have been no mosquitos that have tested positive in town but because of other criteria with the surrounding towns, the level was raised. Ms. Podstawka met with 4 other critical surrounding towns (Webster, Oxford, Dudley, and Sutton) regarding EEE and together as a group wrote a letter of recommendations for the towns and their residents. Ms. Podstawka attended an emergency meeting with the state via Zoom as well. The state decided to spray the towns in critical condition that are not part of the Mosquito Control. Ms. Podstawka stated that she is working with the library and fire department to offer free classes in the library for the residents, to bring the community together. In the Fall we will be offering 2 classes, the first is "Until Help Arrives" which will go over how to call 911 for the kids and also families with children. It will also go over how to use a fire extinguisher; it will be a hands on training. Ms Podstawka ordered more Covid Tests for the residents. They were shared with the library and fire department. There is free tests as well in the hallway at the Municipal Center.
5. (1:07:45 TS) BVPP – Update
Emily, the new inspector for the BVPPH gave an update on what she has been working on. She stated that she trying to get all the food trucks inspected for Octoberfest, prior to the event. She is also dealing with a housing complaint, a discussion was held. She is also catching up with food establishments. Mr. Brazeau stated that he would like to be involved with the housing inspections when Emily goes. Emily stated that New Hot Wok had a good inspection, they did have some violations, but at the re-inspection everything had been corrected. The Picket Fence does need a 2nd re-inspection, because they hadn't fixed anything. The backdoor to the kitchen has a hole in the screen and flies are coming in. Also, the middle school called with a concern about mold in the kitchen. She spoke with the Superintendent. Saturday and Sunday they had mold remediation in the kitchen and now it is gone. The Superintendent wanted to know if they needed an air quality test before school started. Emily spoke to MDPH and they said that it does not need to be tested. The Superintendent handled it properly and it was taken care of immediately.
